FRIENDLY INEXPENSIVE WAY

You don't have to spend a lot of money to enjoy the pleasure of a trip to Europe. Smart travelers who recognize value have found that a "run-of-the-ship" cruising is within the reach of most vacation budgets. This modern interpretation may allow you every luxury and privilege of a first-class Atlantic cruise, yet leaves you with ample money to spend abroad.

From your first day on shipboard you'll be delighted with your informal entertainment and congenial companions. For congeniality is the order of the day on the Red Star Line. The food is fine and well served in your own dining quarters. The service is thoughtful, from the stevedore on board and crew that guides you shore to your own steward and stewardess who act to your every wish.

Best of all there's a plenty of S.P.A.C.E. Space for rest and sport and dancing on broad ventilated decks, space for rest and relaxation in large public rooms and home-like private accommodations. The ships themselves are among the swiftest sailing on the seven seas. In fact nothing has been neglected that would make your trip long and happily remembered.

Take a trip from the North Pole and you'll be friendly toward that Red Star Line—the swiftest of the ship way to Europe. A small deposit will insure those accommodations. Come on along!

Mein Kampf

NO ONE who dares to evaluate the day-to-day moves on Hitler's political chessboard can hope to succeed without at least a working knowledge of the contents of Adolf Hitler's "Mein Kampf."

The book is at once a credo and a chronicle of a wildest vision which leads to the heights of a fanatic's power: the sketch of a policy of action which demands the need of a vision of unbridled control.

First printed in 1925, the book has since gone into 230 editions. More than five million copies have been distributed. It is compulsory reading and is read as an examination textbook in all schools, colleges and training camps in Greater Germany. The desk of every German official must contain a copy and it must be recited in the dormitory of every young German couple.

The power for evil is irresistible.

Cardinal doctrine of the Hitler creed is the supremacy (in the mind of his creator) for world domination by a Kultur-bearing race.

Such domination can be achieved only by a people which understands and makes itself the focus interest in blood, race and will. "Blood flows the Father's mission with its essential of life," we quote.

"The race question is not only the key to history, it is the key to all Kultur."

"The air against blood and race is the original sin of the world. Our World has been a civilization, a historical achievement, merely like a religion. We expressly committed a single exclusive and terrible sinfulness and unreasonableness to our Worldism."

"The thing that we have in fight for is to subvert the continuous and the expression of our race and the combined purity of our blood. And our people may develop for the development of the nation for which the Creator of the Universe has ordained us."

The Germans are "the Kultur-bearing race."

The supreme task of such a race is the expansion of its power by the getting of "some land and soil." "For such a race 'conquest' is not only a right but a duty."

In executing this "duty" as Germans can profit in "a world of confusion and struggle which was created as human beings. The sole evidence of any such act... will be in every German man or woman, or will it harm us? Religion, humanism, and all other points of view are beside the point. When the people fight for their existence on this planet, all vibrations from humanity and beauty cannot together to save. The ultimate wisdom is to know that might is right, that we are victorious which a creature or tribe is able to possess."

To the Kultur-bearing race, peace is "not a peace brought about by alive battles in the hands of warring peoples and killing old women, but a peace guaranteed by the worthy rights of a people of lords and masters, which would bring the world into the service of higher Kultur."

Obviously the inevitable conclusion of the Kultur-bearing race was not limited by the German boundaries of 1914. Hitler himself admits it. First, was this boundaries raised, the next would be something that it wouldn't be worth the blood we should have to shed on the enterprise. "Boundaries" evidence at most the right of the conqueror and the weakness of him who subdues. And only in the night sleep is the boundless of night."

Not a word of mercy enough. It must be accompanied by victimization by Germany of pure race. "Germany 'has extended together the labor of our entire race, but living in peace and without mutually supporting each other by history and."

Within a century the Kultur-bearing race must possess sufficient raw soil, "about equal in size to Europe," to support a German population of 125,000,000.

It is there to be seen Germany of the conquered by victimization. "The German of the 'higher' and 'lower' races is taken 'to be so as our blood has been mixed with that of foreign peoples, our racial soul has tended to splinter apart.'"

Even the German language must be kept inviolate from contamination by the conquered. "For a people of foreign race, expressing in foreign class in German, would not with its color and the nobility and worth of our own people."

What is to happen to the conquered?

For aught Hitler says they may perish. "We are not the police guards of the evil forces; 'you let people' but the victors of our own people."

Only the German masters and the German hero himself "must" what may be achieved?

There will come a time when problems will arise which only a highest moral code, leaving at their command the means and resources of the whole planet, can solve. A state which, in an era of racial extermination, keeps its own blood pure and inviolate, can stay hard and master of the earth."

"When the gods would destroy they first make mad."

... and Magna Charta

IN THE British pavilion at the New York World's Fair, there is an exhibit as ancient as the Magna Charta. It is said to be one of four original copies, written in parchment in Latin script.

It will be of more than passing interest to large numbers of fair visitors, because Magna Charta is not only the charter of British democracy, it is the backbone of the constitution of the United States.

This month for the first time in history, a group of British monarchs will visit the President of the United States, an explicit demonstration of the friendship and of the common purpose of the two greatest democracies in the world.

King George also will visit the World's Fair. In the British pavilion, on World's Fair, he will stand in front of that copy of Magna Charta, the rights of the traditions of government which he, in sovereignty, upholds, and of which he is the personal symbol.

Nothing like that has happened before. But every June 15 for a number of years in all British dominions and in the United States the signing of Magna Charta has been commemorated.

The idea of Magna Charta Day was conceived by a Canadian-born resident of the United States James W. Hamilton. His object was a general observance by all English-speaking peoples that would strengthen their spiritual unity.

The organization has grown. In the United States Great Britain's 16 Dominions and Colonies leaders in Church, State and Education have given their support.

This month, as in past years, Magna Charta Day will be celebrated in some cases jointly, by the Canadian Legion and American Legion. Parades by square meetings and special church services.

At this time, when the peace of the world is being threatened by the ideology of "Mein Kampf" it is well for men and women of English tongue to ponder their birth in the ideology of Magna Charta.

The man everybody knows

It is a man whose name, sometimes or often, almost everybody in Canada has come to know this man.

True, many people have looked upon him first simply as a man who had something to tell. Some of them have even been tempted at his persistence... a persistent form of his name called to the value of the service he renders.

But today increasing millions of people know this man as a friend. They think of him particularly, as one who has shown them the way to society and greater peace of mind.

Remembered that man, many a widowed mother and her children have been able to face the future with confidence and courage, secure in the knowledge that their immediate needs have been provided for.

Because of him, thousands of orphaned boys and girls have been able to obtain an education fit them for life.

Because of him, many a work-weary man has been able to relax from business to enjoy the vacation days that he before him.

What a life man... this man who has helped so many people to live in better ways?

You have probably guessed. He is your life insurance agent.

The 10th of June is a time of celebration designed to give the public a clear understanding of the life insurance company system. It is the birthday of the insurance industry.
